REJECTED SUITOR STARTS SHOOTING

Injures Woman Who Repulsed Him and Fatally Wounds Himself.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 11.—Dr. Mark W. Blackburn, a member of a prominent and wealthy family, is dying, and Mrs. Violet Getty, who rejected his alleged advances, is severely wounded from shots which Blackburn fired in a rooming house on Ninth Street to-night.

Mrs. Getty is said to be the wife of a practicing physician at Hyndman, Pa. At the Allegheny Hospital, where she lay with a bullet wound in the shoulder to-night, she said that Dr. Blackburn had called at the house, 108 Ninth Street, where she resided, this afternoon and made a proposal that they elope. She rejected his advances, she said, and he left, but returned again early this evening. She was sitting on the porch at the time and dashed into the house when she saw him coming. She took refuge in the dining room, but Blackburn saw her through a glass panel in the door, and through it he fired two shots. The first went wild and the second struck Mrs. Getty's right shoulder.

Blackburn then rushed to the front door and sent one of the thirty-eight calibre bullets into his own temple. At the Homopathic Hospital, where he was taken, it was said that his death was only a matter of hours.

Blackburn is a son of Mrs. B. M. Blackburn, of Wilson, a suburb of Pittsburg, and the family is one of the oldest and wealthiest in that section. The father, deceased, made a fortune in the grain business there. He is about thirty-five years old and studied to be a lawyer, but though he got his degree, he is not known to have practiced. Instead he was employed recently as a superintendent of a coal mine at Kayser, Pa. Three brothers who visited the hospital to see him to-night would make no comment on the shooting.

Dr. W. C. Getty, husband of Blackburn's intended victim, was a classmate of Dr. Blackburn in the Pittsburgh Dental College of the Western University of Pennsylvania, now the University of Pittsburgh, about five years ago. They were at that time almost inseparable companions. Mrs. Getty is twenty-five years old.

FARM BUILDINGS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Burned Structures Part of New Market Race Course Grounds.

TAG DAY IN PETERSBURG

Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union to Meet April 22.

Times-Dispatch Bureau,
109 North Sycamore Street,
Petersburg, Va., April 11.

The buildings on the farm of John R. Jones, near Fort Steadman, in Prince George county, a short distance from Petersburg, were destroyed by fire about midnight Saturday night. The houses included a neat cottage residence, the barn and a thirty-one stall stable, containing a large quantity of timothy hay. There was no tenant on the place, and the fire therefore was the delivery of a severe blow to a person. Mr. Jones is a citizen of Petersburg, where he conducts a large live stock and dairy business.

The buildings stood on a part of the famous old New Market race course, and the stable formed a part of the old grandstand. Mr. Jones had $500 insurance on the buildings, and his loss is $1,000 above insurance.

Morning Fire.
The three-story double brick store belonging to the estate of the late Charles Friend, and located on Cockade Alley, near Old Market, was seriously damaged by fire Sunday morning about 8 o'clock. The roofs of the building were burned off, and the men and women occupants of the upper floors lost much of their furniture and effects. The two storerooms were occupied by household goods, fish dealers, and Mack Morgan, butcher. The property is insured. The fire is supposed to have caught from an overheated stove.

Partners' Meetings.
The Virginia Division of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union, which is to meet in Petersburg on Tuesday, April 12, has elected its officers. The officers of the union are E. T. Bonduant, president; C. Gordon, vice-president; and H. L. Petty, secretary. There is a large executive committee, representing various counties in the State.

The objects of the organization are educational and co-operative, having in view the best interests of the farmer and the best methods of farming, and a goodly attendance of the members is expected.

A meeting of the farmers interested in the business around Petersburg will be held in the Chamber of Commerce building on Thursday to consider the matter of the establishment of a creamery near the city. There are a number of dairies in the three counties adjacent to Petersburg, and the question of a creamery has been quietly discussed for some time. Arrangements are being made for the proper reception of the Farmers' Institute, which is to meet in Petersburg in August and which attracts a large number of the prominent farmers of the State to this city.

Contract for a Mausoleum.
In the will of the late Colonel Henry C. Roper the sum of $12,000 was set aside for the erection of a mausoleum to his memory in Blanford Cemetery. It is understood that the contract for this mausoleum has been awarded to Burns & Campbell, of this city.

Tag Day in Petersburg.
Everybody in Petersburg was "tagged" to-day for the benefit of the Petersburg Hospital. Boatmen, fishermen, matrons and maidens, had the good will in hand, and no one could resist their appeals. In fact, everybody was willing to wear the tag, and many of them, the fair, sellers stationed themselves in the pinks, in the stores and on all the city streets, and no one was overlooked.

This duty, undertaken by the friends of the hospital, it is claimed, is not necessary if the people were more liberal in their support of the institution. The new addition to the hospital, which is a two-story building, has been roofed in, but will not be completed before June.

General News in Brief.
It is a curious coincidence that on the same day, April 2, the remains of a Federal soldier were pined up on the battlefield of the Crater, the skeleton of a Confederate soldier, a member of the Louisiana Tigers, was pined up on the battlefield of Gettysburg. Both soldiers had been buried where they were killed.

The Rev. W. H. Atwill, pastor of High Street M. E. Church, gave his congregation very plain and practical sermon last night on "Gossip," and the lesson was directed to both men and women.

The Rev. Wm. E. Hatcher, D. D., who began a series of special meetings in the First Baptist Church yesterday, preached to large congregations morning and night. He will preach every night this week.

No information has yet reached the family and friends of Frank Kravitz, the Bohemian farmer, of Prince George county, who mysteriously disappeared several weeks ago. The missing man had a wife and four children anxiously awaiting news of him. He left home with $150 in his possession to purchase a horse in Richmond.

Miss Julia E. Crabb, the owner of the "Oak Hill" and "Violet Bank" properties, on both sides of the turnpike in Chesterfield county, is making great improvements in her place, and a residence park suburb with every convenience enjoyed in the city.

Joe Whitehead, colored, was arrested here last night for the Norfolk authorities, charged with felonious cutting and wounding.

E. S. S. PERMANENTLY HEALS SORES & ULCERS

Old sores remain open and chronic ulcers refuse to heal because they are kept constantly irritated and infected by impurities in the blood. This impurity of the circulation comes from various causes. A long spell of debilitating sickness, which breeds disease germs in the system, the retention of refuse matters of the body because of a sluggish condition of the eliminative members, a continued malarial state of health, inherited bad blood, etc., are usually responsible. But whatever the cause of the infected circulation, the sores or ulcer CANNOT heal until the blood is purified. E. S. S. heals sores and ulcers in the very simplest way. It just goes into the circulation and removes the impurities and polluted matter which are the means of keeping the sores open; then the sores are bound to heal. E. S. S. is the finest of all blood purifiers, and not only does it cleanse the circulation, but it adds the necessary healing qualities to the blood, and in this way assists nature to quickly cure sores and ulcers. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., can do no permanent good toward healing an old sore because such treatment does not reach the blood. The external applications may be soothing and cleansing, but the healing must begin at the bottom and this is just what E. S. S. does by first purifying the blood, and then furnishing nourishment and health to all the flesh tissues. Book on Sores and Ulcers free to all who write and request it.

Mr. Royall Tells Court He Must Travel to Get Depositions in Tenney Suit.

Before Judge Daniel Grinnan, in the Chancery Court yesterday morning, William L. Royall, now sole counsel for Mrs. Tenney in her suit for divorce against her husband, George O. Tenney, president of the Atlantic Bluelite Company, tried without success to have the judge enter an order requiring Mr. Tenney to give up $1,000 more to cover costs of the proceedings.

Mr. Royall stated that at Mrs. Tenney's request, attorneys Joe Lane and Cary Ellis Stern and A. W. Patterson had withdrawn from the case and that because of cross bills filed by Mr. Tenney, he would be obliged to go into several trials to take depositions. He said also that the Tenneys had about $3,000 in furniture in a local storage house and that Mrs. Tenney would like the use of some of it. He said that he had applied to Mr. Wendenburg, counsel for this meeting, for an order releasing a part of the furniture, but that it was refused. Mrs. Tenney's apartments, he said, were very sparsely furnished.

Mr. Royall then asked that an order be entered requiring Mr. Tenney to pay the amount allowed for his fee. The court decided to hear the whole matter to-morrow.

NOEL IS REMANDED TO REFORM SCHOOL

Boy Counterfeiter Saved From Penitentiary by Action of Governor.

ANOTHER NOEL RESPITED

Norfolk Murderer to Live Until May 13—School Books to Be Chosen.

Acting upon a petition signed by ex-Governor Claude A. Swanson, Judge W. R. Barksdale, the trial judge, the Commonwealth's attorney of Danville, and many citizens of Danville and of Halifax county, Governor Mann yesterday commuted the sentence of Lane Noel from two years' confinement in the penitentiary to a similar term in the Laurel Reformatory. Noel is to be brought to Richmond to-day.

By application, an commutation was based upon Noel's youth and his previous good behavior. He is only nineteen years old. With a companion, he began the work of counterfeiting Piedmont cigarette coupons, and had a printing plant for that purpose in the town of South Boston. His home is at Danville. The spurious coupons were said to have been excellent copies.

Upon detection, Noel with his alleged confederate was placed in jail. At the trial he pleaded guilty, and was given two years. The papers issued yesterday by the Governor give him into the custody of the Prison Association of Virginia.

SELECTING SCHOOL BOOKS

State Board of Education to Meet Here on April 20.

For the purpose of selecting an approved list of books for the high schools of Virginia during the next four years, the State Board of Education will hold a meeting in this city on April 20. For some time past the board has been advertising for bids to be submitted on both the single and multiple systems. All bids must be in by April 15.

Fully $75,000 worth of books will be purchased by the high school patrons of the State under the selection plan. The board of education, which has been exceedingly active during the past few weeks in presenting their cases to members of the board.

MURDERER RESPITED

Norfolk County Man Gets Extension of Life Because of Wound.

The Governor yesterday respited the death sentence of Thomas Noel, of Norfolk county, from April 25 to May 13. Noel is one of the men who made a sensational escape from the Norfolk County Jail a few days ago, and who was recaptured. Noel being severely wounded. His physicians decided that he could not be moved to Richmond on last Saturday, when a penitentiary officer went after the prisoners. Elijah Rouse, his partner in the crime, was, however, brought to the penitentiary, and will be electrocuted Monday week.

Under the law men sentenced to death must be in the penitentiary fifteen days prior to their execution. As this will be impossible in Noel's case under his original sentence, the Governor granted the respite. He may be brought to Richmond within a few days.

PACKING JAMESTOWN EXHIBIT.

Captain W. W. Baker, of Chesterfield, went to Norfolk last evening to superintend the packing and loading of the Virginia exhibit at the Jamestown Exposition. This exhibit will be brought to Richmond and displayed in the new exhibit hall in the State Library annex. It is estimated that seven or eight cars will be required to hold the great volume of material, much of which is geological and mineralogical.

The exhibit will be packed in a liberal manner, and the remainder by the Norfolk and Western.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM SURGEON'S KNIFE

Mrs. Margaret Lambert, a reproduction of whose likeness appears above, lived at 151 Broad street, New Haven, Conn. Mrs. Lambert recently had a narrow escape from the surgeon's knife.

Virginia, for the person of one Joe Bartley, who is wanted in Jefferson county, W. Va. Bartley is under arrest at Staunton. C. B. Wentzell was the West Virginia officer who presented the papers.

Bartley's offense seems to have been an extremely heinous one, especially in these times of high prices. He is accused of having willfully, maliciously, feloniously and with malice aforethought, entered upon a certain chicken house, the property of Hannah F. Appell, and with having abstracted therefrom three chickens, of the value of $3.50. In these days when chickens sell at about $10 apiece, it is supposed that the figure given in the indictment is merely nominal.

The afforsaid chickens, which it is claimed, Joe Bartley did feloniously abstract and steal, against the peace and dignity of the Commonwealth of West Virginia, are likely to cost Joe dear.

FRUIT NOT INJURED.

From reports received from various sections of the State by Commissioner of Agriculture Kolner, it seems that the recent frost did practically no damage to the fruit crop. The weather was dry, and in many sections there was no frost at all.

The State will have the biggest fruit crop in its history, for a tremendous output of blossoms is heard of everywhere.

SUIT INVOLVING WATER POLLUTION

Appeal Granted in Damage Case Which Went Against Miners.

That the doctrine that each owner of property along a stream has no right to use it for any purpose incompatible with the use which a lower owner desires to make of it, belongs to a primitive age, and not to this day and generation, is the argument put forth in a petition for a new trial filed in the Supreme Court of Appeals. The claim is made that the water in the stream involved is as necessary to the business of mining which is being carried on there as is the ore, and that an irretrievable conflict must exist between owners of property along streams in these days of development.

The case is that of Elizabeth Landrum, who owns property along the Virginia Carolina Chemical Company, the Sulphur Mining and Railroad Company, the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, and the Virginia Chemical Company. A writ of error was granted yesterday to the defendants, and the case will come up for hearing at the November term.

The plaintiffs brought suit for damages for the pollution of the waters of Contrary Creek, in Louisa county, by the washing of ore above their property. It was claimed that the debris from the mining, carried down by high waters killed the timber and the vegetable life on twenty-nine or thirty acres of land, and also destroyed the fish.

Upon trial in the Circuit Court of Louisa the jury rendered a verdict for $800 damages against the Sulphur Mining and Railroad Company and the Arminius Chemical Company, finding for the other defendants. It was from this judgment that the two companies are appealing.
